WHO'S WHO IN THE O. A.

OUR FOUNDER

Dr. E. Uner Goodman of Bondville, Vermont, co-founder of the Order of the Arrow, has devoted his lifetime to the welfare and training of American boys and men.

In 1915, at the age of 24, he and Carrol Edson founded the Order of the Arrow which has become the National Honor Camping Society of the Boy Scouts of America. At the time, Uner was camp director of Treasure Island Scout Camp. He became Scout Executive at Philadelphia Council and later held the same position in Chicago.

He was the first National Director of the Program Division of the Boy Scouts of America, serving in that capacity from 1931 to 1951. While he was Director of the Division, the Cub, Scout and Explorer Programs were given to the nation. Much of the literature and visual aids came into being under his leadership.

Dr. Goodman's Scouting career began as a volunteer leader in 1911. He has always maintained a personal contact with boys in a volunteer capacity.

Although he retired from professional service in 1951, he continues as a National Field Commissioner a member of the National Council and several committees.

Have you ever thought that professional Scouting might be for you? Today there are over 3,700 men giving full time career leadership to Scouting throughout the country. Four hundred qualified new men needed each year.

Would you like to hear about the opportunities for you in Scouting? Stop by the professional scouting display at your local scout office. Or talk with your district commissioner about a professional scouting career.

others:

Our lodge has taken on the camp--we are going to give it a face lifting. Together we pledged an hour of cheerful service--in midst of urksome tasks and weighty responsibilities.

Your buddy might say, "cheerful service and that's it might be, but that rot has helped build a camp that is praised by scouts all over the East.

Those bunk houses sure took a lot of rot as did the chapel, the trading post and the health lodge. But you've got a camp to be proud of.

Remember the higher Visions challenge I brought you--keep them in mind. Service is a vision of happiness as well as success. I am very proud to be the leader of this lodge, and will continue--with your help--to build a dynamic brotherhood in Chester County. See you April 25.
