Writing Advice

(Hints & Tips)

Your Brotherhood letter to Octoraro Lodge 22, W.W.W., MUST address the following points:

- ♦ Explain in your own words what you think the Obligation means.
This is NOT as intimidating as it might initially seem: you are being asked for your opinion; therefore, there are neither right nor wrong answers. As you read each phrase of the Obligation, think about what that phrase is saying to you, and write down those thoughts. In other words, ask yourself, “What am I promising to do?” Write down your answer that question. Done!
- ♦ Describe how you have been fulfilling the Obligation in your troop and in your daily life; and how you applied your understanding of the “challenges” of the Ordeal as a guide to your actions.
Your comments should concern both Scouting and non-Scouting aspects of your life. The actions and/or attitudes you describe do NOT have to be monumental; more often you are judged on how you accomplish your everyday endeavors, than on how you tackle a few immense tasks. Remember that the Ordeal taught you the importance of Brotherhood, Cheerfulness, AND Service. Recall the four “challenges” of the Ordeal: How did you overcome those challenges? Have you found yourself in analogous situations since your Ordeal? What did you do?
- ♦ Tell about your specific plans for giving service to Octoraro Lodge 22, W.W.W.
Ordeal membership entails a commitment to render service to your unit and in your daily life. Brotherhood membership asks for your commitment to the Order of the Arrow and the lodge, in addition to your unit and daily life. This commitment does not need to be overwhelming — in fact, it is not expected to be.

This letter is your chance for self-reflection on the traditions of the Order of the Arrow and how you can practice those traditions within Scouting and throughout your daily life. Please undertake the task of writing this letter with the utmost seriousness.
